

A NEW PARAGUAYAN FRUIT (EUGENIA SP.) AT ALTADENA, CAL. (S. P. I. No. 36167.)

This fruit was introduced into Santa Barbara, Cal., as Myrciaria edulis affinis, by that remarkable enthusiast for plant introduction, Dr. F. Franceschi, and has proved unusually frost resistant there. The bush has fruited at 3 years of age, and the fruit resembles the guava in flavor and has, according to Mr. Wilson Popenoe, a delightful aroma. (Photographed by W. Popenoe, November 5, 1914; P16229FS.)
